TOP KNOT

When the preacher delivered a sermon against the vanity of feminine headgear he took as his text, "Let them on the house top not come down," and made the application, "top not come down."

No one would have the heart to insist on that if they once saw the collection of "top nots," or, to speak more plainly, Bonnets and Hats which we have made this year.

It is clearly ahead in extent, variety, style, beauty, originality and price-ahead of all. It has no equal in this market; was never equaled by us before,

You are invited to inspect it. Worth coming a long way just to see.

AN INVITATION TO SCIENTISTS.

The Effort That Is To Be Made to Bring the American Association Here.

Quite a number of citizens met with a committee representing the Indiana Academy of Science, at the New Denison House parlors, last evening, to further an effort to secure the national meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science in this city in 1889 or 1890. Among those present were Prof. T. C. Mendenhall, of Terre Haute, president of the Indiana Academy of Science; A. W. Butler, of Brookville, and Mayor Denny, John B. Conner, Prof. A. C. Jones, the Rev. Dr. Joseph S. Jenckes, Judge Martindale, Dr. Waterman, Dr. Sloan, and several others. Professor Mendenhall presided. In stating the object of the meeting he said he felt certain the association would be glad to consider an invitation from Indianapolis, which had a national reputation for taking care of all distinguished gatherings in a commendable way. Doctor Jenckes stated that at a meeting of the Indianapolis Literary Club, held a month ago, the matter of in-viting the National Association was discussed, and there was a decided sentiment in favor of extending an invitation. He thought the city would be benefited in many ways by having the meeting held here. He believed it was highly important that the invitation should be urged.

J. B. Conner, president of the School Board, thought the literary, scientific and commercial interests of the city would derive great benefit from the meeting. The city would heartily welcome the association, and would gladly meet all its demands. It was his understanding that the attendance would be four or five hundred persons, representing all parts of the United States and Canada.

Mayor Denny said he knew the city would be very glad to welcome the association, and the opportunity to secure it should not be allowed to pass by. The association met in Indianapolis seventeen years ago, and he thought it would be well for it to come again and see what advancement Indianapolis had made. He agreed to do all he could to call the attention of the people to the association and in invoking their aid in securing its meeting here.

to the association and in invoking their aid in securing its meeting here.

Mr. Butler thought the effects of the meeting of the association in Indianapolis in 1871 were still observable. It had given the public-school system an impetus, and that system had been able to keep pace with the strides of the association. The educational work of the State would be greatly aided by another meeting of the association. Representative men from all parts sociation. Representative men from all parts of this country, and perhaps from Europe, would see what there was to exhibit here, and go home sounding the praises of the State in other ears. An Indiana man (meaning Professor Mendenhall) would probably be elected precident of the association next year, and for that reason it was desirable to have the meeting held in Indiana. After the speeches were of good quality, some of them notably so, while they all exhibited the advantage of careful and intelligent training. The vocal numbers were varied by a violin solo by Mr. Spades in the first part and a piano solo by Miss McKenzie in the second part. Miss Blanche Dollens acted as accompanist, and played with exquisite taste and finish. Her reading that the association should be invited to meet in Indianapolis in 1889, and if not then in 1890. It was decided that the Academy of Science, the different college organizations, the Governor, the Mayor, the Board of Trade, and the Indianapolis Literary Club should all join in the invitation to be presented during the association's meeting in Cieveland this year. J. B. Conner and Dr. Sloan were constituted a committee to wait upon the Board of Trade and present the matter. Mayor Denny was requested to present it to the City Council and Board of Aldermen; Prof. Jones and Dr. Jenckes are to request the Literary Club to do its share, and the Academy of Science and the college associations will ask the assistance of Governor Gray.

THE NATIONAL PROHIBITIONISTS.

Preparations for Their Convention Next Week -St. John a Probable Candidate.

Decorators are about ready to begin their work in preparing Tomlinson Hall for the National Prohibition convention, the first session of which will be held a week from to-day. The committee on arrangements is busily engaged in perfecting its plan for the entertainment of a large crowd. One of its duties is to see that the guests who do not wish to go to hotels are provided with boarding-houses. Several men are canvassing the city to secure the names and addresses of those who will take boarders. A number of rooms have been engaged at the various hotels for State delegatious. At the Grand the national committee will have its headquarters and there several States will have rooms. The Bates has made no special rate, but its rooms have been readily engaged. The same condition exists at the New Dension, where the New York and Illinois delegates will have their headquarters. Some of the delegates are expected so arrive Sunday evening. The New York people will be here Tuesday evening.

Among the leading Probibitionists who will reach bere Sunday or Monday are ex-Governor St. John, General Fisk, I. K. Funk, of the Voice; Chairman Dickie, of the national committee; S. D. Hastings and T. C. Richmond, of Wisconsin; Messrs. Canfield, of Texas; Bayne, of Kentucky; Walter Thomas Mills, L. H. McDon-ald, of California; W. H. Daniels, of Maryland; Judge Black and S. D. Chase, of Pennsylvania, and Dr. A. B. Leonard, of Ohio. Many of the State delegations are coming in special cars, with bands of music and all the decorations and banners befitting the cause they represent. It is proposed to hold brief meetings along the several routes where the trains will stop a sufficient time for such purpose. In regard to tickets of admission to the the committee on arrangements has provided to accommodate in this mauner 5,000 people each day of the convention. One ticket will be each day of the convention. One ticket will be given to each delegate; those for visitors will be intrusted to the chairmen of the State delegations, and those for the press are to be distributed by a committee for that purpose. Arrangements have been made for 150 newspaper representatives, and yesterday wires were placed in the hall for the Associated and United Press service and the telegraph companies.

The intercollegiate oratorical contest, representing the college organizations of the party, will occur at Tomlinson Hall Tuesday morning, the 29th inst. In the afternoon that association the 29th inst. In the afternoon that association will transact its routine business, and in the evening a mass-meeting, under its auspices, will be held at the same hall. In the afternoon of that day the national committee of the party will meet at the Grand Hotel. Wednesday morning the convention will be called to order, and after providing for the several committees will adjourn until Thurscommittees will adjourn until Thursday forenoon, in order to give the delegates an opportunity to participate in Memorial day observances. Wednesday evening the Army of the Blue and Gray will have a campfire at Tomlinson Hall in keeping with the sentiment of the day. Thursday the actual business of the convention will be transacted, resulting, probably, in the nomination of Clinton B. Fisk for the presidency; but recently a movement has been started to renominate St. John. The only question that will excite a contest is the proposed reindorsement of the woman's suffrage plank.

Reviving the Morton Club. The Morton Club met in Pfafflin's Hall last night for the purpose of reviving that organization for the coming campaign. There were only seventeen old members in attendance, but this number was increased by a score or two of others who came to take part in the proceedings. The meeting was called to order by Vice-president L. J. Blakely, and a committee of five, consisting of Mesers. Carr, Thornton, Lilly, Howland and Leathers, was appointed to receive the names of new members. Several names were handed in. W. H. Martz was elected secretary in place of Ed. Holliday resigned, and Hiram Howland was chosen as treasurer. A. F. Potte is president, and as his term of office for four years does not expire until November he will continue to act in that capacty. Pirtle Herod, O. H. Hasselman and A. W. Harter were added to the executive committee, the other members of which are E. W. Anderson, Wm. Bosson, J. K. Sharpe, H. H. Hadley, A. R. Hess, Henry L. Smith, L. G. Another meeting of the club will be held next

AN ANCIENT SECRET ORDER.

Tuesday evening.

The Druids of the State in Their Grand Grove Report a Prosperous Year.

The annual meeting of the Indiana Grand Grove of Ancient Order of Druids convened in the Boston Block yesterday forencon with about thirty delegates present. It is a secret benevolent order, having both German and American lodges, and while not as numerically large as most of the other secret orders of the State, it claims to outrank them all in the matter of age. Its members claim for it the distinction of being the oldest secret organization in existence, even antedating Masonry, and going back to the day of the "Druids of eld." The following officers were present at the opening session: Noble grand arch, Charles Martin, Aurora; deputy grand arch, Louis Krause, Lafayette; grand secretary, Charles C. J. Ratgen, Lawrence-burg; grand marshal, G. Koehler, Indianapolis; grand treasurer, Wm. C. Weiland, Indianapolis. The annual reports of the officers showed that the order is prosperous in the State, although numerically weak. There are ten groves in the State, four in Indianapolis and one each in Aurora, Lawrenceburg, Lafayette, Tell City, Evansville and Terre Haute. The financial statement was satisfactory, showing that many members had been substantially benefited during the year. The proposition to establish a State insurance agency came up for consideration. It was thoroughly discussed, and the sentiment seemed to be strongly in favor of it. The final disposition of the question was postponed until to-day's sesthe ensuing year:

Prof. J. S. Black's Public Rehearsal. Prof. J. S. Black, one of the pioneers in musical culture in this city, gave his thirty-fifth annual public rehearsal and concert last night at English's Opera-house before a large and appreciative audience. The programme was composed mostly of operatic selections. Professor Black believing that ballad singing should be among the last requirements of an artist, and that it takes more cultivation to sing a ballad well than more florid music. The pupils appearing were Miss Bessie Keyes, of Wabash; Miss Jessie Guffin, of Chicago, Ill.; Miss Nelile G. Bicknell, of Springfield, Mass.; Miss Alice Graham, of Noblesville; Miss Mary Atkins. Miss Anna Baggs. Mrs. Heary Schur-mann, Miss Jannette Halford, Miss Grace Whitridge, Mr. Morris Meck, Mrs. W. E. Duthie and Mr. Sidney M. Dyer. The stage was arranged as a parlor, and the singers were seated about, as if in a drawing-room concert.

All of the pupils acquitted themselves with great credit both to themselves and their master. It would be

CULLINGS FROM THE COURTS.

Judge Irvin Passes Sentence on Several Crim-

Judge Irvin, of the Criminal Court, was on the bench but six hours yesterday, but in that time he disposed of eight thieves, six of whom were sentenced to the penitentiary for a total of thirty-two years. The first case was that of Charles J. Martin, found guilty of horse-stealing. Judgment was passed on the verdict of the jury, and Martin was sentenced for a period of ten years. John Shafer, who pleaded guilty to having assisted in robbing the store of Harry Newman, on West Washington street, was sentenced for three years, and John Miller, his accomplice who stood trial, was found guilty, and will go to prison for the same length of time.

Two hours were occupied in the trial of Nellie Coup, the wife of Philip Coup, Indicted for stealing $1,500 worth of diamonds from the residence of John W. Murphy. Mrs. Murphy testified that the woman left the house about 4 o'clock on the day the diamonds were missed. Coup appeared as a witness in behalf of his wife. He said he took the diamonds himself, without the consent of his wife, and claimed that she was in no way responsible for the robbery. The Judge declined to believe his story in its entirety, and gave him nine years in the penitentiary and his wife five. Witfield Coffey, a colored man, pleaded guilty to robbing several residences on Fayette street, and was sentenced to the penitentiary for eigh years. Willis Evans, the noted trunk thief, did the unexpected by pleading guilty, and was given a sentence of five years; and Edward Silver, charged with stealing harness tools from the shop of Paul Sherman, on the Circle, also pleaded guilty, and his punishment was fixed at four years in the State's prison. The day's work is thought to be the largest ever done by the court. The judge closed it by sentencing Harry Parnell to the work-house for ninety days for robbing a stand in the market-house. Result of a Vicious Life.

Mrs. Maggie Wise, murdered in Cincinnati Monday by her jealous lover, formerly lived here. The man who committed the deed was George Thomas, a fruit peddler. Mrs. Wise lived in Whitney court with her eighteen-yearold daughter, Ida Wise. Thomas had been visiting the house frequently, and in a fit of jealousy shot Mrs. Wise three times, and then shot him self through the head. Mrs. Wise was married in Indianapolis some nineteen years ago, to Gus Wise, and two children were born to them. Ten years ago she went to Cincinnati, and while there became acquainted with Thomas, with whom an intimacy was formed. Her infl delity became so notorious that her husband left her. He is still in Indianapolis and is eugaged with one of the express companies. He secured a divorce three years ago. The two daughters went to Cincinnati with Mrs. Wise, but the youngest soon became disgusted with her mother's acts, and returned to Indianapolis, where she has since lived with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Aldrich, who reside at No. 364 Railroad street. The older daughter remained with her mother in Cincinnati, and became a very bad character. She was the only person in the room when the double tragedy was enacted. Mr. Aldrich, the father of the murdered woman, received a telegram Monday evening telling him of the terrible event, and he went to Cincinnati yesterday morning to take charge of his daughter's re-mains, which will be buried in that city.

Renting Rooms for Gambling Purposes. Captain Colbert is keeping up his warfare against the gamblers. Yesterday he had the sub-renters of the gambling-rooms occupied by Tobe Howe arrested on the charge of renting rooms to be used for gambling purposes. They will be tried to-day. On the night of the raid a young man, whom Captain Colbert did not know, made his escape. Since then Albert Raphael has been boasting of how he eluded the police, and, taking him at his word, he was arrested yesterday, charged with visiting a gambling-house, and will have a hearing this morning. Tobe Howe and two others arrested in the raid, who took a change of venue from the Mayor to 'Squire Smock, pleaded guilty, and were fined $25 each.

Suing for Certificates of Deposit. Another suit involving a considerable sum of money, in which Mrs. Rosa Zollar is plaintiff and her step-father, Bernard J. Archibald, defendant, is on trial before a jury in Judge Howe's room. The daughter is suing to recover certificates of deposit valued at $3,500 now in Fletcher & Churchman's Bank. About a year ago she took the certificates home, and hid them in her bed. She alleges that her father got hold of them, and has since refused to give them up unless she would present him with $1,000. The bank refuses to pay out the money until the court names the person entitled to the certifi-

Restraining Order Granted. Cornelia A. Fenrow has petitioned the Superior Court for a divorce from her husband, Joseph Fenrow, to whom she was married in 1866. They have four children, and she claims to have been inhumanly treated by him. In addition to the divorce she asks for alimony and the custody of the children. In order to prevent her husband from disposing of considerable property which Judge Taylor granted.

Counterfeiter Found Guilty. Against Joshua Harlan a verdict of guilty was returned, yesterday, in the United States Court. He was tried for counterfeiting and when arrested the officers found in his possession twenty-two counterfeit silver dollars, and $200 in spurious gold. Harlan testified that another man furnished him with the money.

Notes from the Courts. Edward Dietz was fined $10 and costs by the Mayor yesterday for butchering a beef inside the city limits. Meat Inspector Wambo says several other butchers are to be prosecuted for not going outside the city limits to do their Isaac W. Shipman and H. Ellingwood are on trial in the United States Court under an indictment charging them with violating the pension laws. The prosecution is based on alleged false affidavits made by Shipman, in which he stated that Ellingwood's disability resulted from a disease other than rheumatism, with which he was afflicted while in the army.

Willis Black, a Hamilton-county farmer, has brought suit against the Indianapolis Naturalgas Company to compel it to carry out the terms of a lease. He claims that he leased eighty acres of land to the company with the understanding that it would sink a certain number of gas wells upon it. This he claims the company has failed to do, and he wants $200 damages on account of the non-performance of

The Art Exhibit. On Wednesday and Saturday nights informal eceptions will take place at the art exhibit, like that on Saturday night, to which all are invited. The exhibit closes on Wednesday next, May 30. One of the noticeable features is the portrait of a lady, by William J. Rice. It is full length, and in the perfection of its detail shows the rich, white silk drapery embroidered with flowers, while in the background is an i Instration of the splendor of the New York studies, which are frequently hung with the most magnificent stuffs. The carpet on the floor of the picture is of heavy white velvet, with a deep, long nap, a style fashionable at present among wealthy Parisians and New Yorkers. The character of the lady in this portrait is delineated in every trait.

Building Permits. The following building permits were issued yesterday: John Vandersar, frame cottage on Union street, near Palmer, $1,100; J. W. Connelly, frame dwelling on Walcot street, near Carter, $1,800; C. The Soldiers' Monument. Mr. Baumann, the deputy architect of the Soldiers' Monument Commission, was in the city yesterday in consultation with the commissioners. After discussing the question fully, the commissioners decided to visit all the colitie stone quarries of the State for the purpose of investigating the stone and will probably start to-day. Excavations for the monument will be completed this week and the foundation stones be laid next Monday. After that the stone work will be pushed rapidly forward.

LARGEST HOUSE IN THE STATE

There is nothing better in the market to-day than Woodlawn lots at $400, $450 and $500. The streets are made, fine forest trees, the addition is largely built up, and more houses in course of erection this year than for several years past. We will sell on long time with small payment down.
